RULO is a rucksack made of top-quality waterproof material that effectively protects the contents from rain and moisture. The backpack's main compartment is closed with a zip, which can be rolled up and additionally secured with a plastic snap. The interior, lined with soft cotton lining, conceals two practical pockets for small items to facilitate organisation. Thanks to the special mesh on the back, the RULO provides excellent ventilation and wearing comfort, even on long walks. The distance fabric, which does not absorb water and dries quickly, makes the backpack ideal for all weathers. On the back side, there is a hidden laptop pocket, zipped for easy access and extra security. On the outside of the backpack there is a small pocket for small items, zipped and trimmed with reflective fabric. This one increases the user's visibility and safety.
